We're here for your medical testing needs

Your provider might order blood work as part of an exam to better understand your health and to keep you healthy. At ACL Laboratories, we're here to help you and your provider find the answers you need for your health.

How to get lab work

Orders are required for lab services. After your provider orders lab work, you can walk in to get tests at most of our ACL Laboratories locations, or make an appointment that fits your schedule.
